

Friends

I remember meeting for the first time those friends that nowadays I can't imagine living without them. I used to be so shy meeting new friends and more if I started a new chapter of my life, but it wasn't too hard for me. I remember playing with tricycles in P3 and running for my life to catch one. I didn't use to meet my friends out of school.

Nowadays I normally meet with at the weekend, I have lost my shame and I try to make new friends.
